PRESS RELEASE

DATE: 7/17/2017

Beltservice Corporation is now stocking Nitta Polysprint and Polybelt to broaden our offering of Power transmission/ Nylon Core products. As a Nitta platinum partner, Beltservice is certified to deliver the highest quality products designed to offer our customers the most innovative solutions to the most demanding applications.

Nitta Corporation's innovative culture and state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities have allowed them to create one of the fastest growing, highest quality, power transmission, machine tape and conveying products available.

Beltservice Corporation will serve the needs of its network of industrial distributors and original equipment manufacturers (OEM's) from ten strategically located facilities with the most complete offering of belting inventory in North America,

By combining the strength and expertise of both Nitta and Beltservice, we will define exciting new opportunities for improvement in the conveying industry, delivering innovative products and a level of service that will separate Beltservice Corporation and Nitta from other competitors in today's conveying market place. Please contact your Beltservice Branch Location or sales person learn more about this exciting announcement.
